

Matt Pollard is a Legal Adviser at the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC). As a thematic Legal Adviser, he addresses starvation and hunger in situations of conflict, private military and security companies, and torture and other ill-treatment. He is also part of the team updating the ICRC's legal commentaries to the 1949 Geneva Conventions and their Protocols. He has a law degree from the University of Victoria, Canada, and an LLM and PhD in international law from the University of Essex, United Kingdom.